

Everything You STILL Don't Know About Family Law and Are Afraid to Ask!

Focus:

This program will answer many of the questions you were either afraid to ask or did not know to ask! The morning will feature a panel discussion and presentation by the renowned Dr. Richard Warshak of Texas, on parental alienation and judicial remedies for alienation. The morning will wrap up with "Six Hot Topics" in child support, with everything you ever wanted to know about complex child support issues in 10 minutes or less per issue. The afternoon features support and property issues in family law, including: the definitive case law review on costs of disposition - when to take them and at what rate; how to deal with income tax issues as they come up in your practice with respect to property and support; how to obtain non-party disclosure and what key cases you need to you know on your motion; and a panel with the judges to learn how to successfully make your pitch for costs. Also back in 2009 is the ever popular "year in review" of substantive case law and legislative changes. Don't miss hearing from senior counsel, judges, chartered business valuers and parenting professionals about these hot topics in family law.

Taped from the February 2, 2009 Institute Program.
