Tuesday, March 9, 2010 | 5:30 PM

OBA Conference Centre 20 Toronto St. | 2nd Floor | Toronto, Ontario

Part 1 - The Chief Justice of Ontario and the Chair of the OLRB will engage in a frank dialogue about the ability of our justice system to resolve labour disputes in the most fair, timely, and cost-effective manner.

Part 2 - Experienced practitioners will discuss the current state of the law on s. 2(d), upcoming issues, and their experiences litigating constitutional labour law cases. One of the most dramatic developments in constitutional and labour law in recent years was the decision of the Supreme Court in B.C. Health Services finding a right to bargain collectively in s. 2(d) of the Charter. The emergence of a previously unrecognized constitutional right has led to new litigation in the labour field. How can these constitutional rights be adjudicated in a fair and effective manner, in the courts and in administrative tribunals?
