

One of the most highly regarded legal publications in Canada is currently seeking an Editor!

The intersection between law and business has become a pivotal part of the economy and Canadian Lawyer InHouse is Canada's only magazine focused on corporate counsel and the business executives to whom they report.

The Editor of InHouse will be integral to the planning, researching, writing and editing content that reflects the key issues and trends within the legal profession. Engaging the online community and building relationships with key industry leaders are paramount in this position.

The ideal candidate for this position will have university degree in Journalism or related field and have spent at least 5 years reporting and/or editing on the legal or business marketplace in Canada.

Our publications are on the leading edge of multimedia business-to-business publishing and the position holds many opportunities for expression in print as well as digital and online media. This is an excellent opportunity to take your career in publishing to the next level by working with high level industry professionals on stories that make a difference.

All interested candidates are required to submit a resume, 5 clippings or links to online content, and a pre-screening questionnaire which is located below the posting on our company website www.clbmedia.ca. Please send you application to jobs@thecartwrightgroup.com stating in the subject line that you are applying for the Canadian Lawyer InHouse editor position. Deadline to apply is February 24, 2010.
