

ASSOCIATE LAWYER WANTED

Emond Harnden LLP is the largest management-side labour and employment law firm in Ottawa. Our dynamic, well-established boutique practice is growing and we are looking for a fluently bilingual Associate to join our team.

Our firm offers a collegial, relaxed workplace with great benefits and civilized, flexible hours of work. If you are looking for an opportunity to practice law and work with clients in both official languages every day, our firm is for you. The salary for the position will depend on your level of experience and your qualifications.

Our ideal candidate has been practicing labour and employment law for 1–3 years. In the alternative, you have significant work experience in labour relations and human resources, a law degree, meaningful exposure to labour and employment law during your articles, and expect to be called to the bar of the Province of Ontario in the summer of 2010. You must have excellent research and writing skills. An ability to write and speak fluently in French as well as English is essential.
