

What the charter means to me

*The constitution of rights and freedom is in our favor
For citizens and residents to live a privileged life does the chart endeavor
The great Canadian charter
A constitution that sets Canada apart from other nations that rule their countries with regulations that creates their citizens to be departers
No, not Canada's great document of laws which are a blessing
In which these rights and liberties are easy accessing
From the beginning it was known as the British north American act
However, Canada would not settle until the constitution was right for everyone to impact
For over a hundred years it would undergo changes until 1982
Until a new and improved constitution came running through
The charter is not just some mere document full of rules in which we must obey
It is instead a record of promises that help to make life here in Canada a blessing each day
This constitution is crowded with laws many that are filled with different motives Such as making sure the accused are met with a fair trial to allowing the freedom for citizens to vote for whoever they find suitable without any objectives
While this document as a whole is one that we Canadians can go around to proudly boast
There is a law in this charter that favors me an individual the most Sections 2(a) to be exact
A law in which that religiously persecuted wish to attract
As Nigerian Christian it brings me such pain
That due to their love of Christ, my people back home are slaughtered in vain
Or in countries such as north Korea, China, Egypt, Nigeria, and many more
Where a law rules that any love for Jesus will get you kicked to the core
However, here in Canada I will never have to worry about being caught with a bible
For in many other places, it is seen as illegal
Section 2(a) is seen as so important that it as placed as one of the four fundamental rights
And for this i cannot thank God enough for allowing me to serve Him in a country where everyday I am not forced to see bombsights
I am guilty of taking my freedom of religion for granted
Because this is a blessing that many others have not obtained and that is worth being counted
I am happy that Canada has allowed me to worship my Lord Jesus in peace without Any fear of persecution
Or oppression
I pray to God that everyone will be able to taste what true freedom like this is like Even it is just a tiny bite
So as a black Christian female I am grateful to say That the Canadian charter of rights and in freedom is in my favor in every single way!*
