

Courts Digital Transformation

Ontario

Ontario's Courts Digital Transformation (CDT) initiative is a key modernization effort by the Ontario Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (SCJ), and the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ). This initiative aims to replace legacy technology, standardize processes, and integrate systems to significantly transform the way justice is delivered in Ontario.

Members of the Judiciary, Court staff, Private Bar, Crown counsel, Self-represented parties, Police as well as Broader Public Sector users, all stand to benefit from this new solution.

Key Features of the new Digital Justice Solution

The new digital justice solution will be implemented province-wide over 7-years, with the first phase scheduled to launch in Summer 2025 for the Toronto region.

A brand-new public facing portal will replace the existing Justice Services Online platform for stakeholders and the public. The online solution will enable:

- easy and 24/7 access to case documents
- one-time document submission
- secure tracking of case documents
- online fee payment and
- quick access to court documents like orders and endorsements.
