Privacy considerations permeate so many different legal issues today and the laws governing access and protection of personal information can be complex.

Our expert faculty will provide an overview of the foundations of privacy law, including an overview of the legislative and statutory framework, breaches and remedies and much more.

Plus, hear about intersecting and emerging legal issues, and the different ways in which you can develop a privacy law practice.

Whether you have a file with privacy law implications, are looking to establish a privacy law practice, or are in need of a refresher on the key components of privacy law, this program will help you navigate this fast-evolving area of law. Register now to secure your spot.
